

A Question of Luck

1 What's the weather like?

a How many words do you know to describe the weather? (adjectives and nouns) Arrange them in good and bad weather trees.

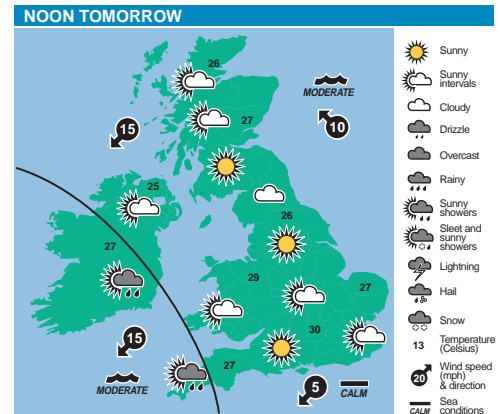

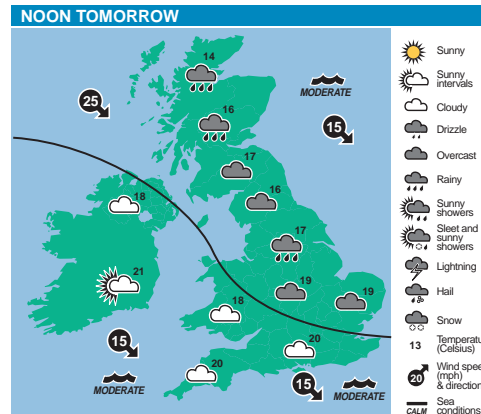

b Compare your weather trees with a partner and add any words you want to remember. Use the words in your trees to make up four new weather trees, this time for the four seasons of the year: spring, summer, autumn and winter. You'll probably use some words more than once.

c Talk to your partner about your favourite time of year. What kind of weather do you love/hate? Which season of the year do you prefer? Are you a summer or winter person, spring or autumn type?

2 Weather forecasts

a Listen to the following forecast and decide which of the two weather charts it fits.

b Your partner has just missed the weather forecast. Tell him/her what the weather will be like if you live in Belfast, Manchester, Cornwall, Aberdeen, North Wales, Dublin.

Look at this example. They live in London.

Have you heard tomorrow's weather forecast?
 Yes, it'll be another dry, hot day.

c Together with a partner try to make up a forecast for the other weather chart.
