

Unit 11, video script

Woman: I'm stressed!
Man: What's wrong?
Woman: I've looked at so many flats on the Internet today! It's terrible. Everything's either too small, too far away or too expensive. I don't know what to do.
Man: OK, first of all: breathe.
Woman: You're right.
Man: Now, it might sound a bit strange, but let's do some flat-hunt dreaming.
Woman: Some what?
Man: Try to imagine your perfect flat. This creates a special kind of energy – and that will help you find it.
Woman: Really? I'm not sure. It sounds a bit crazy.
Man: That's true. But just try it. If you don't like it, you can always stop.
Woman: OK.
Man: So, in an ideal world, what's your perfect flat like?
Woman: Oh, let me think.
Man: You can say whatever you want. Just imagine it.
Woman: OK, OK. My dream flat ... a penthouse ... right in the city centre.
Man: Very good. What does it look like?
Woman: Oh, it's light and sunny and open-plan.
Man: And how many rooms?
Woman: One big living room and two, no, three large bedrooms. So guests can stay with me. Each bedroom has an en-suite luxury bathroom. Fully tiled of course, with a bathtub, and shower. Oh, and large windows. So I can see the city while I'm having a bath. Oh, and a big modern kitchen, fully fitted. With ceiling spotlights. And balconies all around the flat!
Man: Which is your favourite room?
Woman: My bedroom. It's the biggest and most elegant.
Man: Tell me more.
Woman: There's a very comfortable bed right in the middle of the room. And an expensive piece of modern art above the bed. There are floor lamps on the left and right of the bed. And also on the right there are big glass doors, which let in the morning sun. No curtains! There's a desk opposite the bed and on it there's a big vase with the most beautiful flowers. They smell amazing! And on the left of the bed there's a wardrobe for all my expensive clothes and shoes. Oh, and there's a wedding picture on the nightstand next to my bed.
Man: But you're not married!
Woman: Well, if I dream a perfect flat, I want to dream the perfect flatmate too!
Man: Actually, that's a very good idea. So, what does he look like?
Woman: He looks ... like you.
Man: Oh.
