Teacher's notes

Preparation:

Make one copy of the sheet for each student as a handout after the activity. Make one copy for each pair of students and cut up the different parts along the lines.

In class:

The aim of this activity is to practise Conditional I.

Get students into pairs. Hand out the cut-up slips of paper.

Ask students to find combinations and make sentences. Make sure they understand that there is more than one possible combination. Walk around and help.

Ask each pair to write their favourite combination on the board. Hand out a copy of the sheet for each student.

Extension activity:

Hand out the sentence beginnings only and ask students to finish the sentences for themselves. Have students write down all their sentences on a separate piece of paper.

Hang the pieces of paper on the wall. Students walk around and choose their three favourite sentences.
